They will be dead as soon as you move.

I'd love to play with a Divine Bell, but now is not the time. So, until we meet again.

We can have a fair fight then.
Don't worry about the prince, either. He shouldn't be dead.
It was just a little reminder that you all need to behave.

Divine Bells

Season 2, Chapter 31

Infiltration (1)

Ah... um, well...

So...

What brings you to Myung-Joo, Princess?
Why does His Highness ask? Is there a reason why I should not be here?
She's speaking formally?
No, but...

I stopped by on my way to Bu-Ho to drop off these Divine Bells.
May I stay a night here?

Of course you can
You've been a guest in this palace frequently, after all
You seem to be very cheerful. I thought you might be distressed that the king is missing.
How could someone like me allow my feelings to show in the palace?
I must hide my emotions if I am to lead the people of the palace.

How dare she come here uninvited!!
That old bag sure knows how t sugar-coat bullshit.
SFK Permit

How is the search for the king going?
We're search-ing every nook and cranny of Myung-Joo.
And we're getting help from Dae-Hyun to search near the border.
I...
Really hope he comes back.

So do I.

We're not going to Bu-Ho.
That's right!
Are you going to send us to Bu-Ho??
Don't wanna. I don't wanna go!

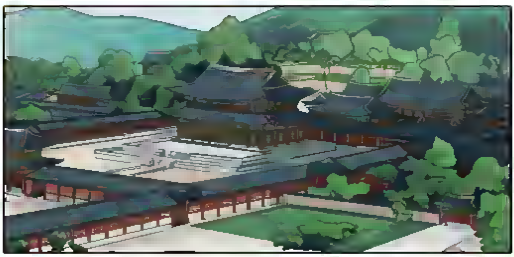

Don't worry. I only said that as an excuse.
Then why did you come to this palace?

Because I thought I should see how the palace is being run while Hong-Ryung's gone. That way, he'll know the situation as soon as he comes back.
Chui-Bi must be pushing Mu-Hyang to be king while Hong-Ryung's not here. Now's the perfect time to become king without a riot.

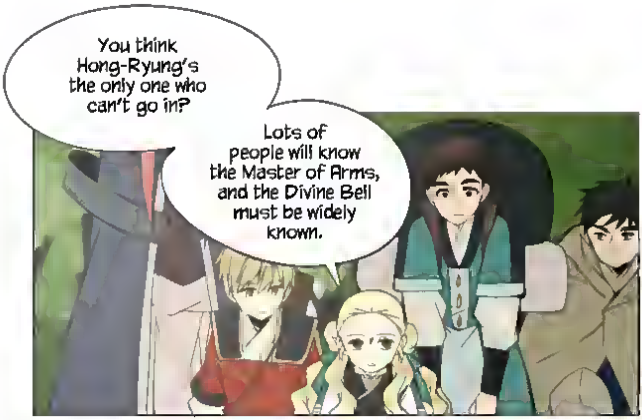

And are there.

...any other reasons?

Well, we're here without a plan. So, how do we get in?
Why don't you stay outside and we sneak in under disguise, Lord Hong-Ryung?

You think Hong-Ryung's the only one who can't go in?
Lots of people will know the Master of Arms, and the Divine Bell must be widely known.

So you and I are the only ones who can enter disguised, but we don't know the layout of the palace.
That's true.

You must have a plan right?
Surely you didn't lead us here without a plan.

I believe his recovery will take some time.

I understand. You may leave.
Yes, Your Majesty.

JUST HOW DID THE ASSASSIN GET INSIDE THE PALACE?!
WE HAVE COUNTLESS PRIESTESSES AND SOLDIERS HERE, AND YOU COULDN'T CAPTURE HER?!!
The priestesses maintain a barrier around the palace.
If someone had crossed the perimeter, the priestesses would have noticed.
Then are you implying that she waltzed in through the main gates?
And that the soldiers let her in without noticing?

Well, he said that Baek-Yeom was your brother?
If so, then he must know the palace very well.
There might be secret entrances that only Prince Jin-Won knew.

Where are we?
There certainly doesn't seem to be any guards.
It's quite high.

I have something I must deal with.
Captain Baek-Yul will lead you to the library.
Where are you going?
I cannot say.

What's the problem? Actually, it doesn't even matter

We're not here to play around, you know? If you act alone and you're found, everything, including Myung-Joo, will be doomed.

So, you didn't come to the palace for the library? You came for your own business?

Half of the reason for coming here is true - to look for leads in the palace library.

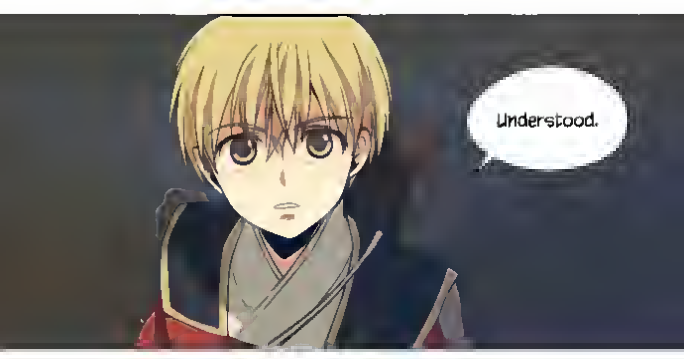

And the other half is a different purpose"

Pretty bad. Very bad. It'll take me a while to recover.
I had too much fun playing.

Why are you looking at me like that?
Because of what I made April do?

You look like you were expecting me

Aren't you here to keep an eye on me?
Did you do something to deserve suspicion?
But you're always suspicious of me, my lady.
I wasn't. Not in the past.
And now?
I'm very suspicious of you - more than I should be.

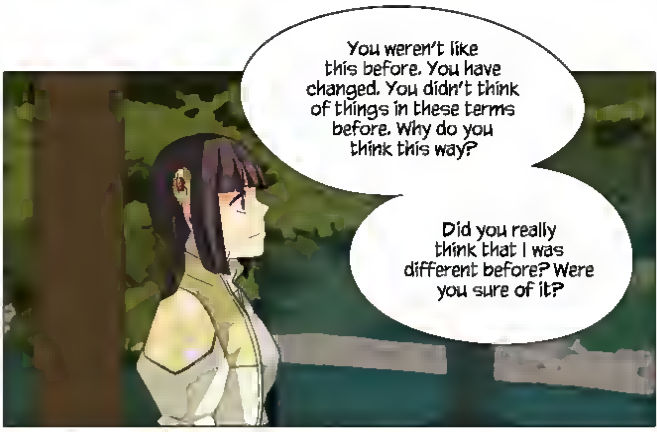

Mu-Hyang. until Hong-Ryung was attacked last year, you really wanted to leave the palace, didn't you?
You said that your presence in the palace would be bad for him
But ever since that incident, you haven't said a word about wanting to leave.

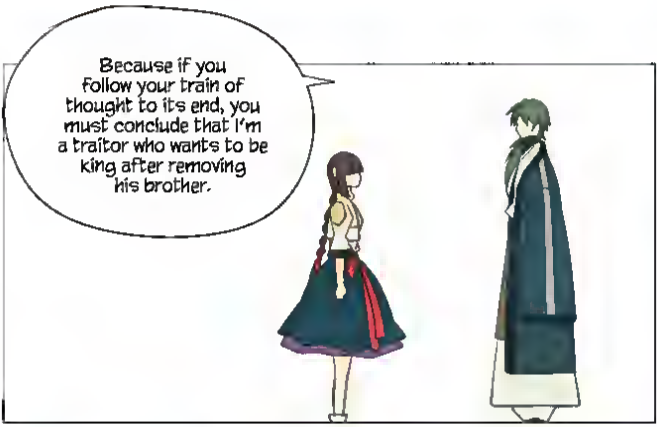

Did something happen to you that day as well?
Did something make you change your mind?

Why do you think so?
What?

You weren't like this before. You have changed. You didn't think of things in these terms before. Why do you think this way?
Did you really think that I was different before? Were you sure of it?

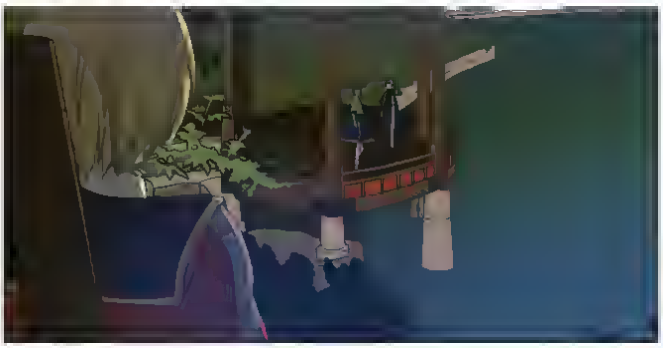

Because if you follow your train of thought to its end, you must conclude that I'm a traitor who wants to be king after removing his brother.

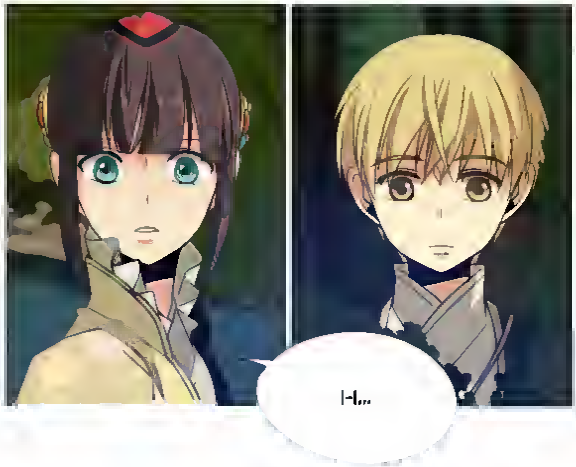

Why
do you think I am asking you these things?

Clench
Straight from you, I want to hear that I am wrong.
I want to hear that I'm wrong every single time I ask.

My lord,

...I must commend you for returning earlier than expected.

But, why is Princess No-Woo here?

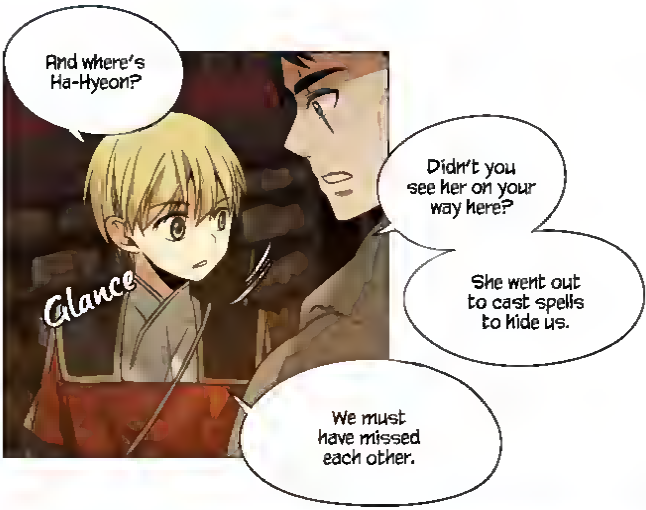

Things, uh, turned out this way.

So that "important business" was to meet the princess, eh?

No! No, not at all.

So you're here as well, General Baek-Yul?
Didn't you return to your hometown after a serious injury?
Ha. ha
Oh, that's right. I did use that excuse to go organize the covert corps, didn't I?

And where's Ha-Hyeon?
Glance
Didn't you see her on your way here?
She went out to cast spells to hide us.
We must have missed each other.

Did you find any records?
We didn't arrive until a short time ago because we were avoiding the guards, so we only began looking just now.

Why don't you get your hands off him?

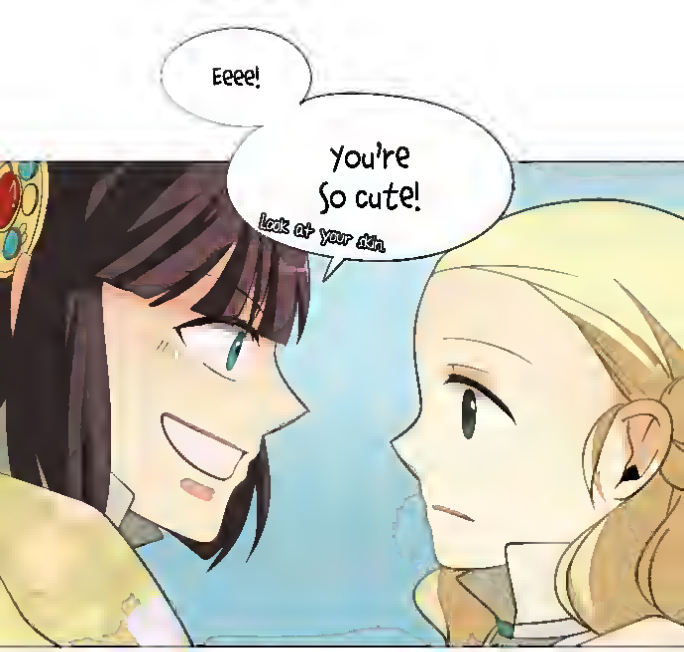

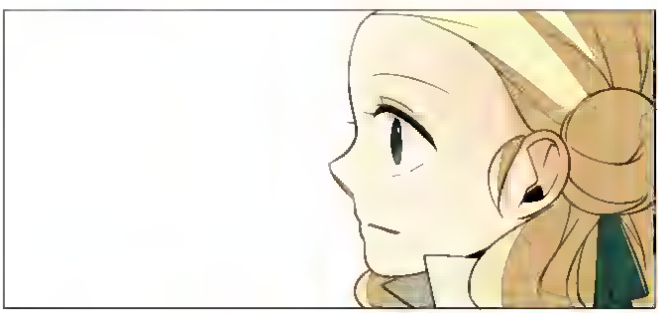

Ha-Hyeon.
Who is she?

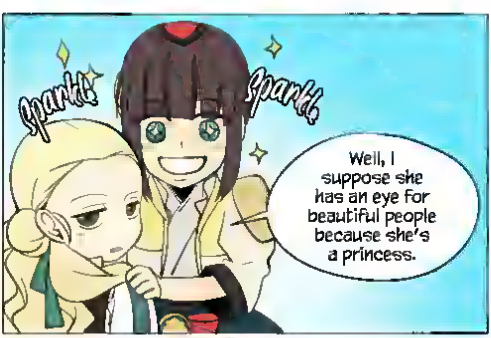

She's a priestess who's helping us.
Priestess?

I'm warning you now that I'm not a very nice person,

For some reason, I sense that you and I might have trouble ahead.
Yeah... I have the same feeling

Flick

Are you even trying? You're being pretty half-assed about it.

I'm just scanning for something specific.
And that is...?

Chu-Yeon Palace.
You think Ga-Bi might be in the palace?
I'm not saying that, but I do think that the palace is connected.
Why do you think so?

A land with a crimson palace.
Hmm?
Ga-Bi called Myun-Joo "the land of the crimson palace."
That is my homeland.

A place of camellias drenched in red;
I will...
And she stressed crimson again before she sealed you.
...be there.

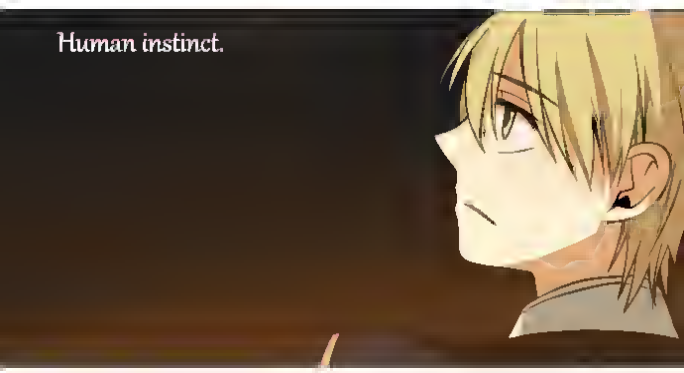

Those two things might be unrelated,
but it's very likely that she meant the same thing.

I've lived in Myung-Joo all my life, and I can't think of anything crimson apart from Chu-Yeon Palace.
If that's the case, why don't you tell the others about it? They are looking for every possibility, you know?

I'm not certain.

I'm not certain if I'm right.

So you're not sure, but your instinct is telling you this?
Then try trusting yourself.
I realized this before - human instinct is surprisingly reliable.

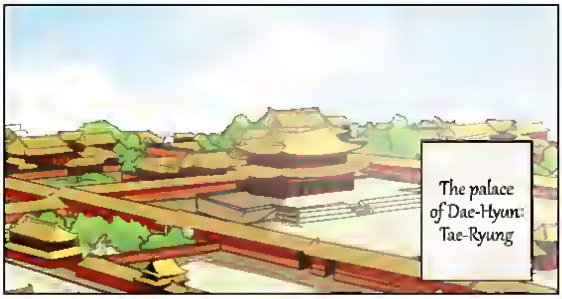

Human instinct.

Uuhhgh
What's the matter, my lord?
Do you know anything about this?

Eh?

A wildfire on Myung-Chun Mountain spread to Chu-Yeon Palace in the 24th year of King Yeong-Jin.
Sixty percent of the palace was damaged and over a hundred people died.

King Yeong-Jin's reign was before I was even born. This was nearly seventy years ago.
Do you think there was something related to camellias before the fire?
If the fire was big enough to destroy half the palace, then some things likely disappeared or changed beyond recognition.
I cannot be sure if camellias were involved, though.
Why don't we search around the area that was burnt?
That's impossible. The fire hit the places that people frequent the most.
That's why the death toll was high. We cannot search those places in secret.
Lord Bi-Mu.

Pardon?
Wouldn't Lord Bi-Mu know? About the palace before this fire?

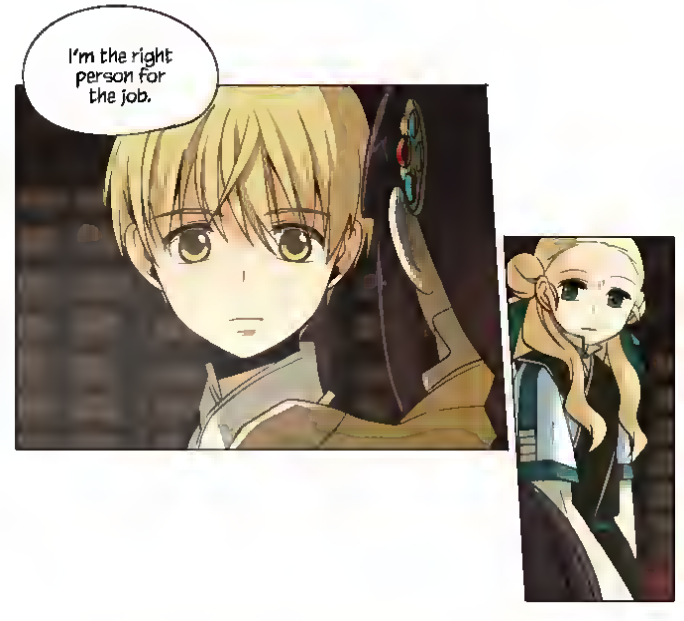

Is that old man still alive?
Who is he?

Prime Minister Bi-Mu - prime minister to three kings of Myung-Joo.
He retired about three years ago due to his health.

You seem to know him well, when you're the princess of Nan-Hun.
He used to take care of us whenever I came to see Hong-Ryung.
THEN WE MUST GO AND—
No, wait until sunset.
Even if we use that secret passageway, we would still be caught if the sun is up.
But—
I'll go.

No-Woo?

I told you that I'd help you, right? I'll go and see him.
He shouldn't find it suspicious if I visit him for old time's sake.
And no one would dare spy on me, the princess of Nan-Hun. Also, I'll be with my Divine Bells, so I shouldn't be in danger.

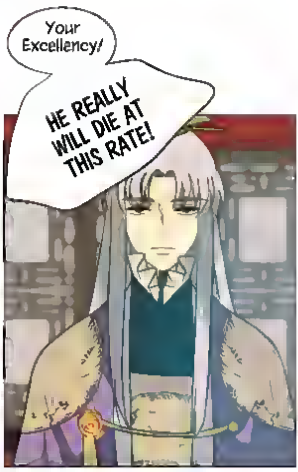

I'm the right person for the job.

WHAT? YOU DIDN'T FOLLOW THE KING OF CHI-HU?
Why should I follow him when he's not my master?

And I wanted to find out what you were hiding, so I hid myself and watched.
You're kidding. You stayed in the palace all this time and you reveal yourself now?
Then again, you were always like this. You were never around unless Ga-Bi called for you.
Unlike you all, I'm more comfortable when I'm using my power.
And more comfortable still if I don't have to deal with pesky people.

Then could you do me a favor?
What favor?
Please let Gang-Hui and the other Divine Bells know that war might break out soon.
Gang-Hui chose the king of Myung-Joo as his master. If a war really does break out, Yun and I might have to fight Gang-Hui.
So please ask the other Divine Bells to help Gang-Hui to stop us.

My, my. Look who it is.
If it isn't Princess No-Woo!
It has been some time, Lord Bi-Mu. You look even healthier than before.
Ha, ha!
Naturally, I'm doing better. I'm not involved in politics anymore.

H-Hello.

Ah! I see that a long life has it's rewards.
Don't hide, I won't hurt you.
I get to see a Divine Bell with my own eyes.

But that aside.
what's your business with an old man like me?
As you can see, it's not just a social visit.
Yes, I can tell right away from your impatient expression.

The wildfire 70 years ago...

I do remember that incident slightly.
But I was only seven years old back then, so I only remember the details that my father told me.

What did your father tell you about it?
What I remember the most is his grieving.
The fire reduced the political powers of Myung-Joo significantly.
Half of the people in the palace died in the fire.
...and the cost of rebuilding the palace nearly caused the country to collapse.
I believe the incident was a great tragedy.

Do you happen to remember anything about camellia flowers prior to the fire?
Camellias? How do you mean?
Well, anything really.
Camellias... camellias. That does ring a bell.
Is there something in particular you remember?
I cannot quite recall.
I think I do remember something about camellias.
Hmm.

But why are you asking me about this?
Even if I knew, I wouldn't give away information about Myung-Joo and its palace to a princess of Nan-Hun freely.
Even if you are a childhood friend of the king.
Fidget
Fidget
Furthermore, I cannot help but find it suspicious that you would ask me while the king is currently missing.

I know that my request appears very odd to you...
Clench
...but I cannot tell you why I ask these questions.
The only thing I can tell you is that this will not harm Myung-Joo in any way.
I can assure you this upon my honor as Princess No-Woo of Nan-Hun.
So please try to recall more about the camellias, Lord Bi-Mu.

Let's go! Let's go!
HEY!! STOP RUNNING AROUND!! COME ON AND LOOK PROPERLY!!
SFX. SHOUT
Did she send them to help us or to bother us?
Tch. Tch.
They have no common sense
Look who's talking.
But would Lord Bi-Mu know about the fire? He would've been quite young back then.
I am aware of that, but it is better than not trying.
Apart from reading the records, the only way to find out about the fire is to ask someone who experienced it.
It's not exactly easy to find someone who was alive that long ago.

Apart from reading?

Drawings!
Shouldn't there be drawings of the palace prior to the fire?
Oh! You're right. The court painters would've drawn the palace to record events and ceremonies!

If we go to the art archives, then we might find some drawings of the old palace.
Wouldn't the drawings have burnt up in the fire? It was a big fire.
The records don't say the art archives were damaged.
It's located in the far corner of the palace, so the fire must not have spread that far.

A corner of the palace...
That's perfect for sneaking in.

What was April going to say?

But it seems that something more interesting is going to happen soon, so I'll fill you in later.
What are you saying?
Nothing at all. But you can expect something good to happen.

Something more interesting?

Princess, ㅜㅜ

SFX. GLOWER
I really cannot remember anything, so please don't glare at me like that.

Really??
Nothing at all?
It might be because you're rushing me,
but maybe there were no camellias to begin with.

Are you having trouble remembering things or find yourself forgetting where you put things recently?
I'm not going senile just yet.

It can't be helped then.

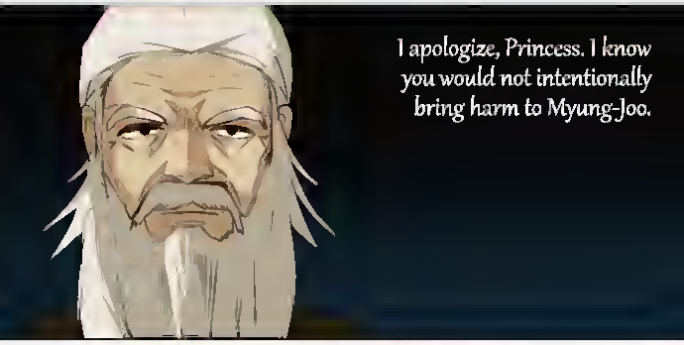

You must be very disappointed not to find the information you needed.
It wasn't a waste of time because I was able to see you, Lord Bi-Mu.

The pleasure was mine, Princess.
Then I look forward to seeing you again,

...with Hong-Ryung along.
Yes, I hope so, too.

Excuse us.
Bow

I apologize, Princess. I know you would not intentionally bring harm to Myung-Joo.

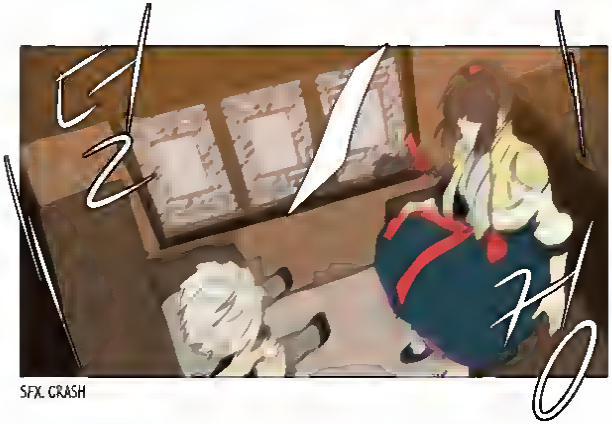

But an old man like me can't just tell you all he knows without understanding your intentions.

Everyone will be disappointed that I couldn't get any valuable information.
But you did your best! Everyone will understand.

I suppose we have to start all over again.
This will never end at this rate. Hong-Ryung must've tried really hard to get this far.

I expect her to be late because she was going to see Lord Bi-Mu.

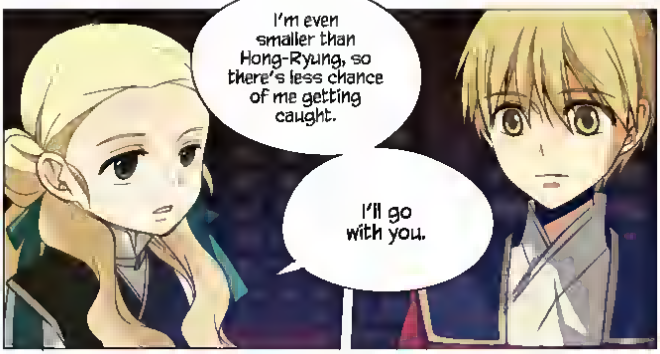

SFX CLOSE
Anyhow, most people should be in their quarters at this hour.

I'll go to the art archives.
By yourself?
The sentries patrol the route to the archives, so we'll be caught if we go as a group.
I cannot allow you to go by yourself. What if something happens to you?

Then I'll go with him.

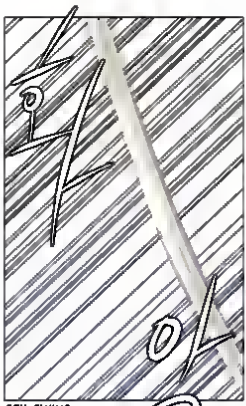

I don't feel right sending one of you two with him.

And sending those kids will get him caught in no time.
Whoa!

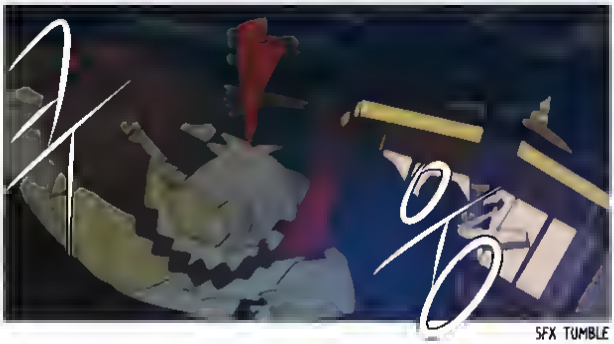

I'm even smaller than Hong-Ryung, so there's less chance of me getting caught.

Hey. Wait a minute.
Couldn't I have worn a guard's uniform instead of a maid's?
...
Well think about it. Do you think a guard's uniform would have worked?
Because, you know, a guard and a maid together will raise enough suspicions to get us killed.
Well. I suppose so.

Don't be so depressed.

It suits you really well.
I'm glad there were no wigs

You're not helping.

Are the art archives much further?
Just around the corner.
Well, keep your head low just in case we meet someone. What if we bump into someone who knows you well?
Who goes there?

Just like this.

What's the matter?

Well ma'am, it's unusual for maids to be walking around at this hour...
This is someone who knows me quite well indeed.
What?

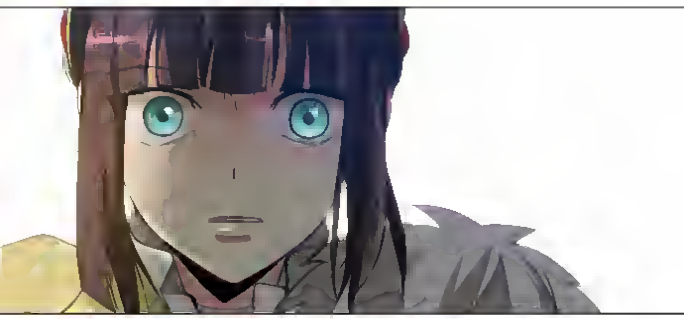

It's Chui-Bi.

Please don't worry. I did not come here alone.

If you want to protect the Divine Bell, then please get away.
You must not be injured.

PRINCESS, PLEASE HURRY!

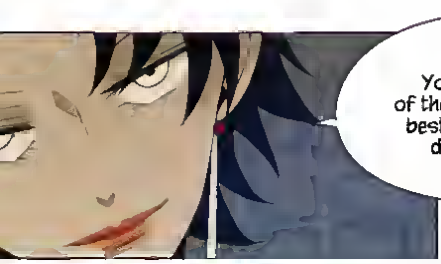

Stop.

SFX: SNEAK

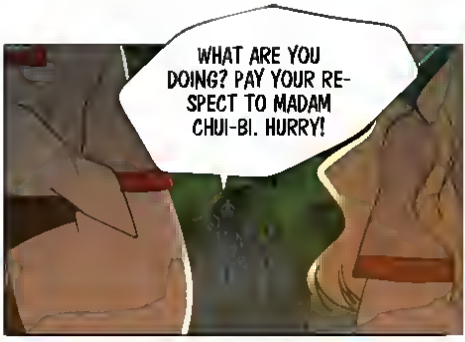

Let her go.

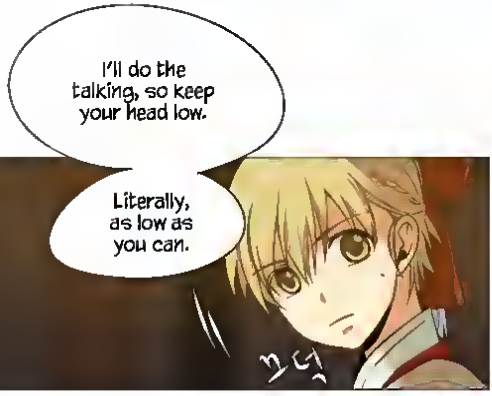

You know, in front of the princess, I did my best to pretend that I didn't know you.

I'm going to ask you a question. If you don't answer me properly,
...you'll die here, Mu-Hyang, instead of that princess

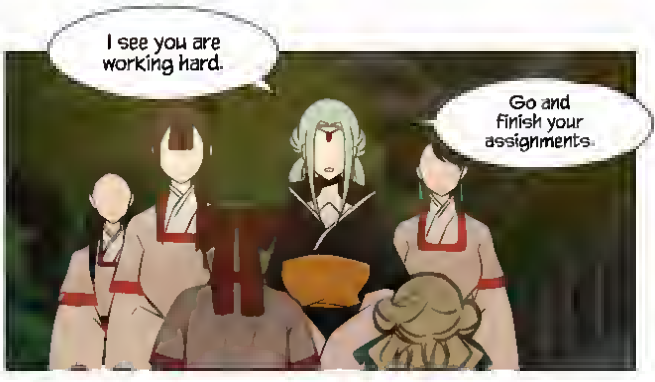

WHAT ARE YOU DOING? PAY YOUR RESPECT TO MADAM CHUI-BI. HURRY!

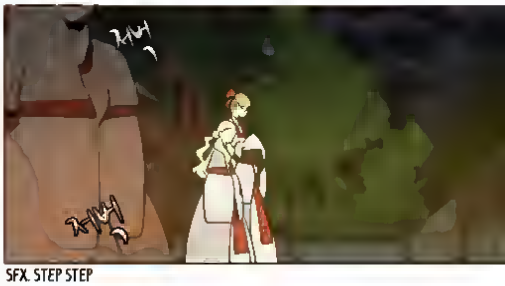

I'll do the talking, so keep your head low.
Literally, as low as you can.

SFX. NOD

I apologize. I was slow to react properly before the presence of Her Highness.
What duties bring you walking around the palace at this hour?
We're part of the household staff. We were going to do laundry.
At this late hour?

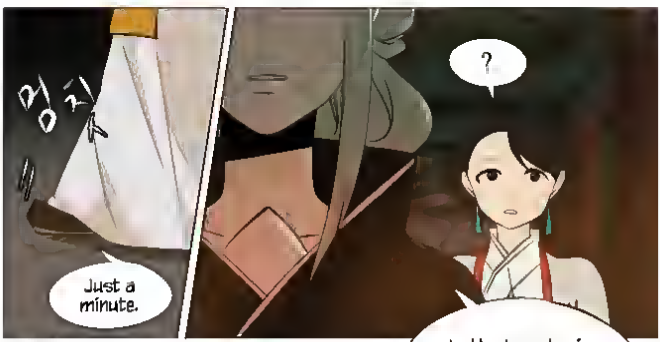

SFX. STEP STEP

They look pretty young. Their seniors must be making them do all the work...
...if they are working this late.
I know how it feels. I was mistreated the same way when I was younger.
We must gather the maid supervisors and warn them.

멍
Just a minute.
Is the laundry in the direction they were heading?

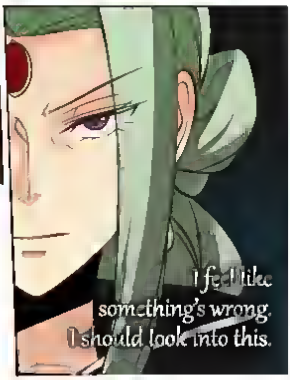

SFX: STOP

Oh, now that you mention it, the laundry is in the opposite direction.
Maybe they were lost in the dark.
But I doubt they would get lost going to the place where they were assigned.

Why do I feel...

...so uneasy?
Pardon?

I feel like something's wrong. I should look into this.

Let me ask you in return: why did you attack the princess of Nan-Hun?

You said nothing to me about attacking the princess within this country.
You know that it will hurt relations between Myung-Joo and Nan-Hun if the princess dies in Myung-Joo.

Are you saying that you won't mind if I kill her outside Myung-Joo?
Hmm? Is that what you're saying?

I don't mind

I really don't get you. I can never tell if you're being serious or not.
I found it amusing, and that's why I visited you so often. But now, I have to make a decision based on your words.
It's kind of irritating.

I'm not in a good mood, so I'm not going to listen to you. I will kill that princess today.
APRIL!!
Do you know why I stopped that assassin who tried to follow her?
Because you see, I failed to kill her last time...

...so this time, I stationed assassins all over the palace grounds.
What?
So, no matter where the princess flees,
...she's going to die anyways.

Season 2, Chapter 40.

Suspicion

What should we do?
Do you need to ask? What can you possibly do against a Divine Bell? Retreat.

Cripes, how unlucky can I get? I failed again. It's all your fault

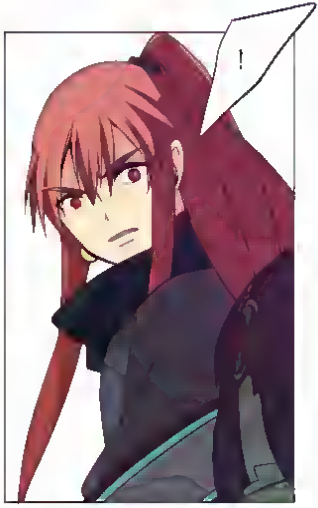

I could've killed the princess right here if you hadn't interfered.
I won't stand by and let you cause trouble in this country.
Well, you risked revealing your secret by saving the princess. You must really care for this country.
But I do pity her. She appeared to be really touched that you came to save her.

So, what about you? Did you find anything?
I think I figured it out.
What?

Ga-Bi's location.
I think I found it.

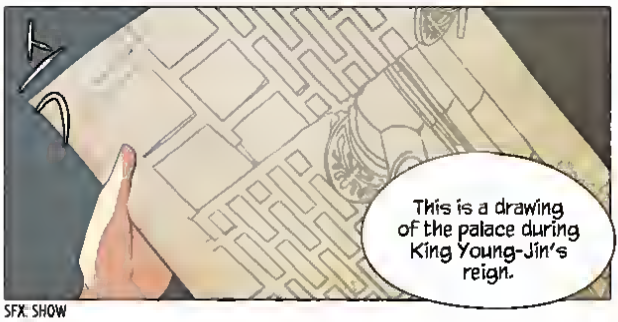

Oh. Really?
That's great.

MY LORD!

Where are the Divine Bells? Hasn't No-Woo returned?
The Divine Bells went to find the princess.
Did you learn anything?

Camellias!

Right now, the pattern on the tiles is lotus flowers. But every depiction of the old palace has camellias.
Apparently, all the tiles were replaced after the fire.

Then the camellias are the tiles on the palace, and crimson refers to the palace itself!
So we just need to find "where it begins!"
If Ga-Bi really is in the palace, then we can't do much in secret.
We must ask my brother Mu-Hyang for help.

That might be a problem, Hong-Ryung

Focus. Where in the palace might we find Ga-Bi?

Don't let your mind wander.

SFX. TOUCH

Why haven't I seen anything? I've been here all this time without noticing.

Maybe she hid by sealing herself.
Well, duh, I know that much.
But I feel like an idiot for being unable to feel her if she's really here.
I expected everyone to cheer up if we found a clue to Ga-Bi's location.
But the mood got worse!
Are we at some funeral?!
SFX. DEPRESSED

What part of the palace was built first?
That would be the Sang-Myung quarters.

Then maybe Ga-Bi is there.
Or, could "where it begins" refer to the entranceway?

That's possible.
If Wi-Jin is right, then it might mean the Sung-Hyun Gates.

But neither place is easy to investigate.

Are any events being held near the palace? The best thing is to distract the guards.
Not at this time of year.

Even if some event was going on, the security wouldn't relax.
Distraction... Is there a way to distract the soldiers from their posts?

A revolt

If there is a revolt in the palace, then the soldiers on duty would leave their posts to stop it.
So you want to go and gather up some soldiers?
Tell them that you're alive and everything?

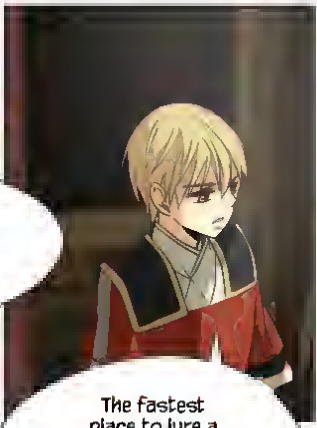

No, I won't reveal myself.
Then, will you go undercover?

There's no time to work out every single detail when we have a chance to find Ga-Bi.

We just have to give it a shot.

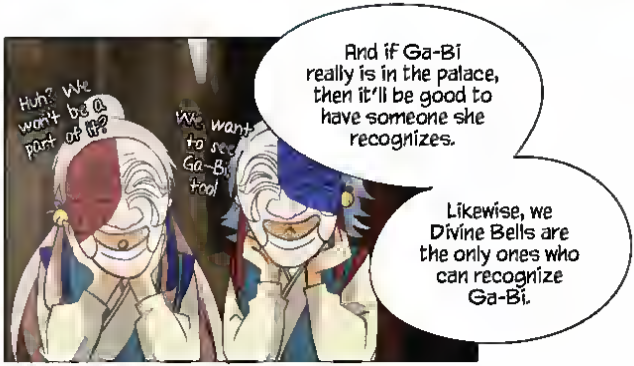

The fastest place to lure a group of soldiers in the palace would be...

...Chui-Bi's quarters.
She is the most influential person in the palace with you gone, Sire.

No-Woo, go to the palace, tell them that you're returning home, and leave.
WHAT??

You should not let yourself be involved in whatever happens now in Myung-Joo.
I under-stand.

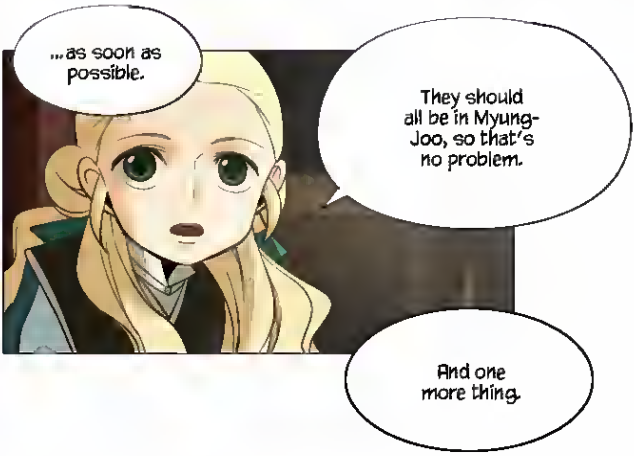

I want to go in. But I won't use my powers.
Unlike the other Divine Bells, I can put up a fight even without my ability.

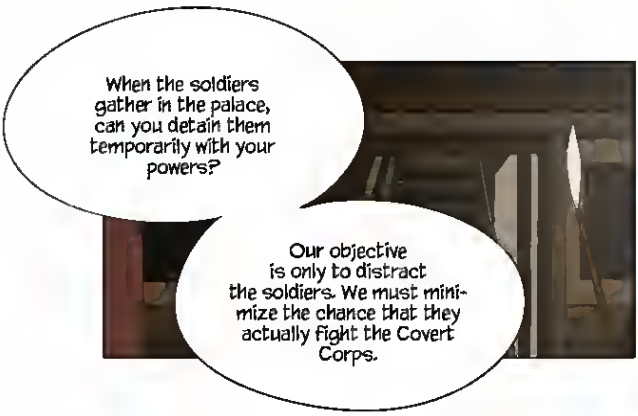

Huh? We won't be a part of it?
We want to see Ga-Bi, too!
And if Ga-Bi really is in the palace, then it'll be good to have someone she recognizes.
Likewise, we Divine Bells are the only ones who can recognize Ga-Bi.

And I have a request for you, Ha-Hyeon.

Could you deliver a message to the Covert Corps, like last time? Tell them to gather here...

SFX: GLOW

...as soon as possible.
They should all be in Myung-Joo, so that's no problem.
And one more thing.

When the soldiers gather in the palace, can you detain them temporarily with your powers?
Our objective is only to distract the soldiers. We must minimize the chance that they actually fight the Covert Corps.

Don't worry. I can manage that just fine.
Sorry for imposing on you.
And I'm really grateful to you.
No problem.

You're leaving?
Yeah. I'm exhausted after all that happened yesterday.
I want to return to Nan-Hun.
If that is what you wish, then please do so.
I'm sorry about yesterday's incident. I should've kept a closer eye on you.
No need to apologize!
After all, you did save me yesterday!

Northern Covert Corps Captain: Su-Lan
And you should send a guide if you're hiding in a place like this. It took us ages to find.
Western Covert Corps Captain: Dan

Whew

Long time no see, Sire! You haven't changed a bit.
Isn't it time for you to grow now?

He's slow as usual.

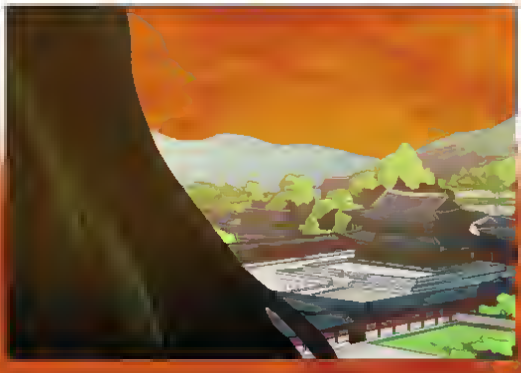

And is this the Divine Bell? Now don't you look young for a 150-year-old man?
Who is this woman?

SFX. LIFT

Where's Poung-Yeon?
Isn't he with you two?

We leave for the palace, now.

Okay, Su-Lan and Dan will take the Covert Corps and infiltrate Chui-Bi's quarters.
Ha-Hyeon will use her powers to trap the soldiers who respond. If a lot of soldiers are trapped, it should be easier to deal with the rest.
After that, Su-Lan and Dan will go to the Sung-Hyun Gates and look for Ga-Bi.

Korean Honorifics Lesson!

Oppa - A friendly way of addressing an older man near your age if you're a girl
Oppa is also used (though not synonymously) by girls addressing their boyfriends

Nim - A formal way of addressing someone typically older and/or more respected than you

Ssi - A formal way of addressing someone you do not know or are unfamiliar with

Nuna - A friendly way of addressing an older woman near your age if you're a guy
Nunim - A more respectful way to say nuna

Hyung - A friendly way of addressing an older man near your age if you're a guy

Unni - A friendly way of addressing an older woman near your age if you're a girl

Ajumma - Older woman typically aged between mid/late 30's ~ early 50s. Calling someone younger than mid 30's this is rather offensive

Ajussi - Older man typically aged between mid/late 30's ~ early 50s. Korean men, especially those in their 30s prefer to be called hyung/oppa by those younger than him rather than Ajusshi

Sunbae - Is used to address senior colleagues or mentor figures e.g. students referring to or addressing more senior students in schools

Hubae - Is used to refer to juniors. However the term is not normally addressed to them directly, and is mainly used in the third person
This is nearly identical in Japanese with Senpai/Kohai honorifics

Naeuri - Was used by commoners in the Joseon Dynasty to refer to people of higher status but below "His Excellency"

Seonsaeng - Commonly translated as "teacher", has much more formality and is used to show respect to the addressee. It is related to the Japanese honorific "sensei" and shares the same pair of Chinese characters representing 'mister' or 'one born earlier' (literal)

It's about time you learn them!

Betrayal

Mu-Hyang, I presume?

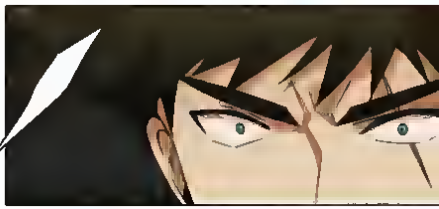

You're destroying Chu-Yeon Palace.
It will take quite a while for repairs.

No, rather than being angry...

I wish you would've told me earlier. I could have assisted you
Brother...

My apologies, Sire.

Master?

BAEK-YUL!! WHAT ARE YOU TRYING TO PULL HERE!!

Why did you think Baek-Yul disobeyed your orders and came to join you?
Master, why are you here in Dae-Hyun?
I ordered the Covert Corps to search in other countries while I search Dae-Hyun.

I ordered him to keep an eye on you.
I knew your every move, and all of your plans.

WHY, YOU!
Please don't move.

Do you really think...
that I would hesitate to harm the king in a situation like this?

Well...

...you're right. I should've told you beforehand.

But it does bother me that you chose not to inform me about planting a spy in Gang-Hui's group.
I was only being cautious. After all, we've never met before.
And if you planted that man in the group, then you should've known Ga-Bi's location.
yet you failed to notify me.
I did not want an uproar in the palace.
I was planning to inform you when we actually found her.

Well, fine
We'll discuss

Yep, it sure is.
It's hilarious that you won't lift a finger to fight me just because of a single human that you haven't even known for long.

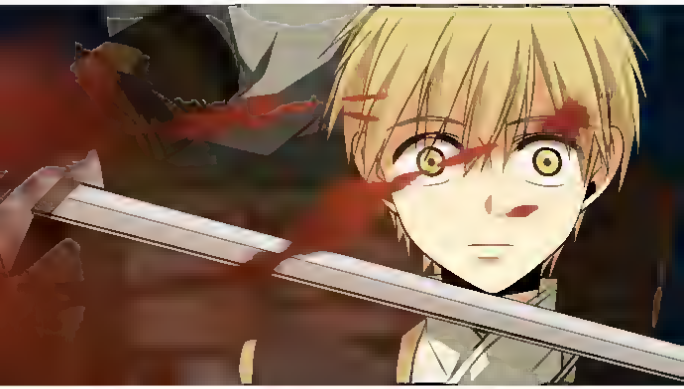

You act exactly the same as Ga-Bi— like two peas in a pod. I wonder if it's because she created you?
That was why she only removed my memories instead of killing me.
Ga-Bi should have killed me back then.
She tried so hard to convince me to change just because I was my father's son

Baek-Yeom will soon arrive at the palace.
Please distract him when he comes.
I need to take the king someplace then.
WHAT ARE YOU SAYING? WHERE WILL YOU TAKE HIM? AND WHY SHOULD I LISTEN TO YOU?!
The only reason I worked with Baek-Yeom was to protect the king.
What?
I worked with Baek-Yeom to learn about him.
